

CAUS Chalkboard

11/22/11

30,000+ Rally to Support Recall

With dozens of clipboard toting people hustling for signatures, the rally at the Capitol on Saturday took on a more festive air than previous rallies. Gone was the defensiveness of spring, replaced by a confident determination to make a difference in the lives of kids, public employees, and the many Wisconsin citizens left behind by the governor and his unfortunate policies.

Governor of the Chosen

Although it has received little attention from the media, nearly a year into Governor Scott Walker's expected 18-month reign, one thing stands out about him. He never meets with, talks to, or demonstrates respect for people who disagree with him.

I'm willing to amend that rather extreme word "never" in the face of evidence to the contrary, but I have been following his activities quite closely, and I can't remember a single photograph or audio clip of him engaged with someone who opposes him.

More

UniServ Director Selected

CAUS-North President Cynthia Bliss of Fort Atkinson chaired an interview committee searching for a UniServ Director to replace David White who took a similar position in northern Oregon. The committee reached a positive conclusion and we will be able to introduce the new director to you next week. Glenn Schmidt, CAUS-North's other UniServ Director, is delighted!

Do Some Good With Your Holiday Purchases

Don't know where to start when you're trying to buy a present for your 11-year-old nephew, Adolpho? Try www.shopwithmeaning.com.

for good ideas and great karma. Get Adolpho a solar powered flashlight called BOGO (Buy One Give One) and the company will donate one to a needy organization somewhere in the world. You can find similar deals for items like laptops, eyeglasses and blankets.

This is an 11.29 communication to members